Forest and Society categorized the research field for open access journals to be published bi-yearly, in April and November. Forest and Society is also possible to published special issue. A special issue/special section enables us to publish papers focusing on specific themes, often related to a "hot topic". Forest and Society is an international and interdisciplinary journal, which publishes peer-reviewed social, political and economic research relating to forests and forestry, which are of a scientific standard. We mainly invite scholars from Southeast Asian countries, but are not limited to other Asian and other countries.

FOREST AND SOCIETY

Vol. 1. Issue 1, April 2017

Forest and Society is ardent to promote erudite, pragmatic, and contemporaneous research, which make a clear theoretical/conceptual and methodological contribution to existing international literatures. These may include, but are not limited to, planning-management and economics, sociology, land use, anthropology, history, international and regional regimes, jurisprudence, and psychology research on forests.
